WELLBORN NEWS.

Every thing is very dull and dry.

Cotton is still coming in. We have shipped 1562 bales this season.

Mr. Robert Ingram and wife, the former an H. & T. C. conductor, of Houston, spent several days here the past week with friends.

Mr. Robert Ward is here from Thurber.

Mr. Arch had a decent house burned on his farm Tuesday night; cause of fire unknown. Rob Roy.

M. M. Moseley has a fine lot of horses and mules at Goosie's stable, and invites those wanting single or double drivers to call and see them. Call and see them.

ON THE ROAD.

Notes Gleaned by the Eagle's Traveling Representative.

BENCHLEY, MILLCAN,

Allenfarm, Weilborn, Manganic Wells, and the Broom Factory. Notes by the Way.

A late visit to Benchley and vicinity, eight miles north of Bryan on the H. & T. C. railroad, showed the people of that locality to be in a prosperous condition with good crops. Benchley has one general merchandise house. Mr. H. F. Payne is proprietor and also postmaster. The local gin is owned by Seale & Prater, with F. S. Wilcox in charge as manager. The public school building is used by various denominations as a meeting place.

Manganic Wells was another point of interest. Lying two miles northwest of Bryan, its fine medicinal properties are well known here, and have attracted considerable attention elsewhere. Mr. Dean is in charge of the Wells.

In the lower part of the county is Allenfarm on the Gulf, Colorado, & Santa Fe railroad, headquarters for some immense plantations. Steele & Steele have a general supply house with the postoffice and there are two gins.

Millacan, twelve miles south of Bryan, was next visited. It is an historic place and was formerly the metropolis of Brazos county and terminus of the H. & T. C. The business houses are now as follows: Scrimshire & Player, general merchandise; A. J. Edwards, groceries and liquors; W. B. Scrimshire, drugs and postmaster; C. J. Hempfling, general merchandise; F. H. Pool, lumber yard and blacksmith shop; George Hempfling and H. E. Smith, blacksmith shops, J. E. Player, gin. Good public schools and churches are maintained by the people.

An enterprise adjacent to Milligan is the rock quarry operated by Green & Olive, accessible by a tap from the railroad. They work a number of men and get out immense quantities of crushed rock which has been much used on the fortifications at Galveston. A steam drill, black powder and dynamite are used in quarrying, the electric current being employed for explosions, and the rock run through a crusher.

Wellborn, ten miles south of Bryan, on the railroad is widely known for the enterprise and progressiveness of its citizens. J. H. Royder & Bro. have three stores and handle everything. They also have a lumber yard and a very fine gin. H. L. Gentry & Co., have a stock of general merchandise and Mr. Gentry is postmaster. Mr. M. S. Freeman has a general merchandise house. Good schools and churches are maintained.

The Bryan broom factory, two miles north of Bryan, was visited. This enterprise is owned and operated by Stangel & White, and has a capacity of three to four dozen good brooms per day, which sell from $1.35 to $3.00 per dozen. Mr. Stangel says broom corn raised in Brazos and adjoining counties is better and stronger and more desirable for his work than that raised in the north. They pay 3 to 3½ cents per pound for it, and say they will give the farmers all the seed they want to plant. On average land it produces 1500 pounds per acre with comparatively little labor. They do a wholesale broom business exclusively.

The Eagle representative has visited all the communities in the county since starting out this season and has been well received everywhere, adding largely to our subscription lists and forming the acquaintances of the people. This work will be continued indefinitely in this and adjoining counties.
